Foreword

In the following pages we, the Annual Staff, have endeavored to put into tangible form the reminiscences of our life at Sullivan which we hold so dear.

We hope that, in years to come, this volume of

THE SULLIVANIA

will serve in part as an "Open Sesame," whereby we may enter again through the gate of happy memories, into these days of joyous work and play,
 of love, and good fellowship, and dream again
 our youthful dreams.

Senior's Tomorrow

Ah! Laugh once more in her noble halls.
Tomorrow your laugh will be a sigh
In remembrance of her. Oh, departing Senior,
Your last days are reluctantly whispering good-bye.

Yesterday you said, "School days never end."
But today, with only a faltering world to face
You ask God why, why do I, lingering here,
Fight fervently for survival in the evil of a human race.

Now we see it! Closer and closer creeps the diploma,
The object of success for which we have endeavored four years;
But now we hesitate to touch its precious coverlet —
Beyond is a life of hardships, perils, and tears.

Tears? Yes, but it also brings the cup of happiness,
For the soul who drinks deep of success.
Perhaps 'twill be to stand upon the stage of a theatre
Instilling into the audience a hushed silence, motionless.

I had rather star upon the stage of a pathetic life
And see God's power engulfing men of earthy might.
Yea, to feel the presence of an unknown source
And shelter men's paths with an illuminated light.

Look, Senior! Gaze deeply into life's uncertain future
Which will soon swallow ye up on its outreaching arms —
Where we all alike must bravely shoulder our heavy burdens.
There, no earthly friend stoops to comfort and soothe our alarms.

There is a life of worthy mention ahead for some of our class
Who strive for a life dedicated to the service of mankind.
So, tho' uncertain of our fate, we joyously take our station
In life's eventful future, leaving former attractions behind.

To say our days at Sullivan have been completely in vain
'Twould be that we have wasted four precious years of our life,
And that this educational institution is a ghostly myth,
Where we have exerted useless energy in mental strife.

Nay, who can say that she who holds our fondest memories
Is nothing but an utter, loathsome, deceiving figuration.
She stands for truth, justice, honesty, righteousness,
And all that makes up our Democratic American Nation.

Leaders of tomorrow we stand youthfully alert today,
Resolving within our hearts that thro' God's guiding hand
America will and must place Him first in her heart,
To make this unanimously, emphatically a democratic Christian land.

There is and can be no place in our hearts for selfishness.
Tasks are too many, laborers for too few for such an object.
We, the leaders of tomorrow, strive diligently onward
To that approaching goal; we reach it by a sole project.

Oh, to give to a love starved world a character
Of high morality; a soul as pure as fallen dew,
Whose diamond rays crystallize a faint picture
Revealing the earth in its moisture reflecting heaven's blue.

To the Junior class, we leave our evalted positions
In the palms of their young unexperienced hands.
They, too, must occupy the stations destiny offers,
And listen to a voice as it blissfully commands.

Ye Sophomores and Freshmen are yet small,
And have not felt the sting of patriotic sorrow
That comes in the last days as we reach our goal,
And step into an unpredicted, beckoning tomorrow.

Lo, the backward glance is o'er; now a world approaches,
And strongly we feel that portion of our heritage — pride!
Thus prepared we advance as a mighty army,
Aware that success is a victory, only as we dwell at God's side.

Class History

Victory draws nigh and frantically we grasp a last departing souvenir of happiness from our four years of high school life. As achievers so often do, we, the Seniors of Sullivan High's '52 Class, gaze in awe as our victory so presents itself; then, we, the victors, treasure for a fleeting moment those happy carefree days filled with small triumphs and small defeats. We forget the sting of defeat in such an overwhelming victory, our graduation. The struggle has been long and not too easily overcome at times, but we are thankful that we shouldered the task that now promises to brighten the path of our future.

Eagerly, yet hesitantly, a class of one hundred and fifty-five Freshmen entered upon the threshold of this educational institution, Sullivan High School, in the entrancing autumn of 1948. The majority of us shared the feeling of a small townsman when, with great perplexity, he finds himself in a large city — so great was our astonishment at being the typical American teenager in high school. High school was a golden word to us which held adventuresome realities.

Like most Freshmen, we thought of our graduation as a nebulosity; therefore, we took life lightly, and hungrily fed upon our present surroundings in the view of mere entertainment.

To our delight we found ourselves in the merry-go-round of affairs and proceeded to elect our class officers who were Elizabeth Bachman, president; Gary Kern, vice-president; Phil Coates, secretary-treasurer. We cannot say we accomplished nothing, for we have presented our school with several students of rare abilities.

At the beginning of the second school term, we made a more noble entrance as Sophomores. Though we were much farther advanced in knowledge than the year past, we still looked to our devout elder classmen for guidance.

Without preamble, we elected our Sophomore officers with considerable thought. The winning candidates were Dean Morefield, president; Douglas Davenport, vice-president; Kathryn Coates, secretary-treasurer.

With thrilling anticipation we looked forward to a picnic. However, foul weather darkened the plans and our picnic turned out to be a party instead. Though such an ill fate beset us, it did not hinder us from enjoying ourselves immensely.

The fall of 1950 found us entering the portals as Juniors. We were all filled with happy expectations at the many events which lay dazzling before us. We elected as our officers Dean Morefield, president; Roger Reeser, treasurer; Dorothy Burgess, secretary; Neil Mullis, vice-president.

Probably the most thrilling event of our entire Junior year was the right to own our personal class ring. At last we felt we were getting somewhere.

Next in order was the presentation of the Junior play entitled "We Shook The Family Tree." The cast enjoyed the long hours of practice and happy comradeship together, but the whole Junior class was glad to see it become a howling success.

The last event of consequence in our Junior year was none other than the Junior-Senior Banquet. Some of our Juniors disclosed innate talents which they possessed. It shall ever remain a memorial event enriching our lives.

Now, as we have entered upon our remaining Senior year, we look forward to three outstanding events yet to take place — our Senior play, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and last but foremost, our day of graduation.

We shall, under the guidance of the following officers, finish our Senior year: Billy Dale, president; Phil Coates, vice-president; Patsy Churchwell, secretary; Roger Reeser, treasurer.

The end of our high school career is at hand; our reminiscence is faintly fading from view. We are proud that we shall be graduates of Sullivan High and justly so — as we also are proud of our American heritage. Before we take our places in other fields of knowledge, we wish to pause briefly and sincerely thank our faithful sponsors for their counsel throughout the past four years. There is another in our midst whom we wish to thank for his utmost ability of leadership, his unselfish devotion to us as principal of our high school — Mr. F. J. Alexander.

The last milestone has been counted, our accomplishments have been reviewed, and we have bathed our thirsty minds with our victories and defeats before we forever depart. Now we raise our heads in pride and determination, step unfaltering onto the next rung of the ladder, and march forward — answering the call of the beckoning hand of God, which guides us into a needy world.

SCHOOL SONG

Let's give a rah for Sullivan High School
And let us pledge to her anew,
Others may like black and crimson
But for us it's gold and blue.
Let all your troubles be forgotten,
And high school spirits rule,
We'll join and give a royal effort
For the good of our old school.

It's Sullivan High School!
It's Sullivan High School!
The pride of every boy and girl,
Come on you old grads
And join us young lads,
It's Sullivan High School now we cheer, rah! rah!
Now's the time boys to make a big noise
No matter what the people say.
It's time to cheer, the gang's all here,
So hail Sullivan High School hail

Handwritten notes:
"Gang"
Hail to you, luck
Hail to you, luck
Hail to you, luck
